Larrisa makes transition

Larrisa Scarce yesterday became the first person in the city to receive her certificate one in work experience from Nova Transition.

The course is designed for people with special learning needs who are seeking employment.

Larrisa had to complete 300 hours of work experience.

She worked at the Lifeline Workshop, Playtime Pre-School, IGA Fresh, PCYC and the Airport Kiosk.

"That's where she got all her skills to complete her 300 hours," job coach, Debbie Files told the BDT.

Larrisa said working at the airport was the most enjoyable job because she liked "serving the customers."

"We're currently job seeking for her," Ms Files said.

Larrisa would like to get work in either the cleaning or hospitality industries.

People with a disability spend 18 months with Nova Transition to receive training to enter the workforce before crossing over to Nova Employment for help finding work.
