

Nova Employment's Starr recruit a great choice for local supermarket

Wendy Starr and SPAR Supermarket manager James Craft

"Yes, I love it. It's fun and there's good people," said Wendy Starr about her workplace at Bourke's SPAR Supermarket.

Wendy has been working at SPAR for the past six months after being placed in the job by Nova Employment - a disability employment service that has helped thousands of people find successful long-employment.

What sets Nova apart from other job agencies is that their work doesn't finish with putting a client into a job.

When Wendy first started, Nova manager Jo Jones actually worked alongside her until she was comfortable in the job and now stops by once a week to offer any further support.

Wendy said the role Nova played in making sure she continued at her new job was invaluable.

"Yes, it was very important. They came and gave me support when I needed it," she said.

SPAR Supermarket Manager James Craft, said working in partnership with Nova has been a real success.

"Nova was good, they were very helpful and very professional and got the ball rolling and Wendy started in no time," said James.

"She's fabulous, I couldn't fault her, she has certainly been an asset to the team."
